Speakeasy Edition

A Night At the Speakeasy Promises Mischief and Mayhem

Get ready, because the sauciest, sexiest event of the Palm Beach Season is slated for Saturday, December 3, 2016, at the Mar-A-Lago Club in Palm Beach. The Empress of Soul, Gladys Knight, won't be "leaving on a midnight train to Georgia" but she will nevertheless be headed down South to entertain the crowd at the 23rd Annual "Lady in Red" Gala, "A Night at the Speakeasy".

And when Ms. Knight is there, she will definitely not be the "first one to say goodbye" because the evening may be "the best thing that ever happened" at the Mar-A-Lago Club - at least in 2016!

A native of Georgia, Gladys Knight began her singing career with her siblings at age 8, in a group called the "Pips." The group opened for R&B legends in the 1950s, then headed to Motown and crossed over to pop music. As "Gladys Knight and the Pips," they recorded their signature song, "Midnight Train to Georgia." Ms. Knight left the Pips behind in 1989, and continued to perform and record as a solo artist. Her incredible talent and staying power caused those in the public and the industry to call her the "Empress of Soul."

"A Night at the Speakeasy" promises an electrifying evening filled with a little mayhem and mischief, beginning at 6 pm with cocktails and a poolside serenade by the Palm Beach Symphony, followed by dinner and entertainment.
